

WHY MOVE TO FLOYD COUNTY, VIRGINIA?

Floyd County is located atop the Blue Ridge Plateau in southwestern Virginia. It's become a destination for many tourists and visitors from all around the country because of its natural beauty, scenic landscape, and diverse culture of music, arts, wines, and recreational activities. The town of Floyd is also a popular hotspot along the Blue Ridge Parkway and The Crooked Road, Virginia's Heritage music trail. One of the town's most notable musical attractions is The Friday Night Jamboree at the Floyd Country Store. The Jamboree plays host to some of the best musicians from near and far and one of the town's main attractions. People fill the streets to partake in the music and dancing festivities. Additionally, The FloydFest Summer Festival is another musical attraction. FloydFest is an annual five-day music and arts festival and features a variety of talented musical performers from rock to bluegrass and more. Thousands come every year to partake in the festivities. Most of the visitors will camp out along the Blue Ridge Parkway and be in the center of the event while they enjoy the food, music, and community. These are just some of the attractions that make Floyd, Virginia special. It is truly a unique place in Virginia.